

OWENS CORNING CERTIFIED ENERGY PROFESSIONALS

YOUR PROFESSIONAL EDGE

You take pride in the work you do, and you want contractors who do the same. Contractors like Certified Energy Professionals (CEPs). CEPs are your trusted, reliable source for superior insulation contractors. They're the professionals who give you a professional edge.

Owens Corning CEPs:

- Complete a comprehensive installer training and testing program
- Have access to eight additional building science tests for greater expertise
- Are annually retested
- Are constantly updated on the latest trends in the industry

CEPs have reliable Owens Corning sourcing to ensure the necessary support to help get the job done quickly and efficiently. You can rely on your CEP to:

- Be knowledgeable and professional
- Take pride in their work
- Always follow through with the job
- Arrive on time every day
- Work hard to meet your needs

And most important, CEPs provide Owens Corning PINK insulation products, the most well-known and trusted brand there is. When you see PINK, you know the products are the highest quality possible.

For the best insulation solution and superior quality installations, the answer is simple. Partner with Owens Corning CEPs. You can count on them for superior quality and reliability. Talk to your Owens Corning CEP to find additional solutions that work for you.

A PARTNER IN PRODUCTIVITY

Working with your CEPs can help improve the overall productivity/efficiency of your business. Your Owens Corning CEP partner will:

- Evaluate your plans and determine the insulation material take off needed to maximize the home's performance
- Evaluate the homes you build to determine the proper R-value where insulation is needed
- Help alleviate your scheduling problems and balance the workload so that the job is completed on time
- Tailor their services to fit your individual business needs

THE SCIENCE OF INSULATION

Talk with your CEP to find out about the many offerings available to make the homes you build thermally efficient and to ensure they meet applicable energy requirements.

PUTTING THE ELEMENTS TOGETHER

CEPs have knowledge of local and state energy codes, as well as leading edge technical information on insulation, moisture control, heat, air infiltration, ventilation and noise control. They understand how all the elements work together in the home to achieve the most effective solution.

YOUR OWENS CORNING EXPERTS

CEPs are backed by the Owens Corning brand which means more access to all the latest resources and technology available in the industry. They can help grow your business through a variety of offerings including:

- The Builder Alliance Program
- Energy Efficiency Programs
- Promotional, display and other materials available to help grow your business
- Answers to all your questions about the latest PINK insulation products available
- Access to the latest information on all the PINK insulation products designed for every application of the home
